Representatives from all four classes comprise the board that plans the major social functions of the year, including the Fall Informal, Winter Week-end, and the June Prom.

SOCIAL BOARD

In addition to annual dances and movies, Social Board often introduces new activities, such as Twerp Week, a social and economic upheaval benefiting the male class, and ending in a proletarian-type orgy, the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

ORIENTATION

On Sunday, September 11, the new Freshman class stormed into the courtyard and began what was for some a rather bewildering first day.

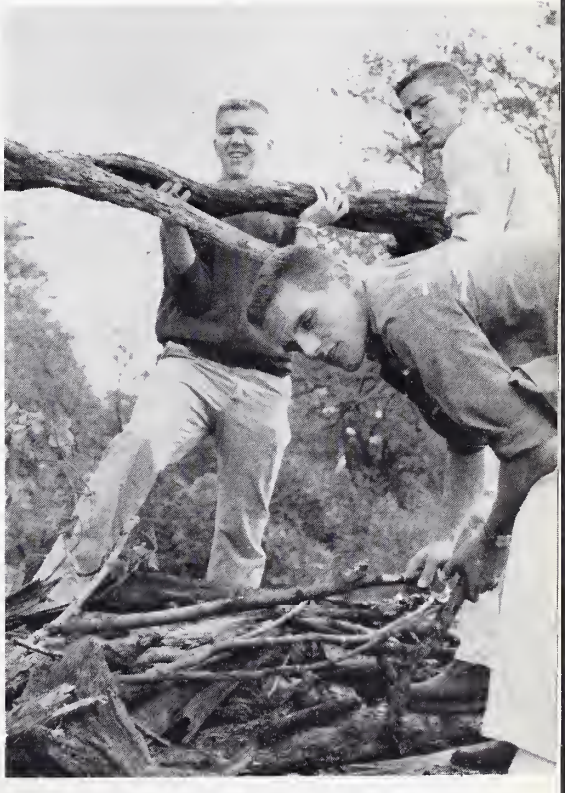
A week of rigorous testing and registration followed. This was designed to measure the student's abilities and help guide him in his major interests.

The next few weeks were devoted to orienting the Freshmen to the social life at R. C. Dances, beanies, and the annual tug-of-war highlighted this phase of freshman life.

A new activity, "Help Week", was also included. During this period, Freshmen offered their individual services to several charitable institutions. The Saturday of this week was given to a general clean-up of the new campus.

Sophomore men, far, pull for a victory during annual tug-of-war.

Freshmen women wage war against local flora during "Help Week".



"Help Week" provided excellent physical exercise for Freshmen.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

In this election year, the Political Science club initiated a new activity at Rockford College, the "mock election". With cries of "As Rockford College goes, so goes the nation", faculty and students enthusiastically attempted to alter the course of history by electing Richard M. Nixon. (A few supported an unknown from Massachusetts.)
